Help us help SHPE

Every year the Carnegie Mellon chapter of SHPE holds various events to help our members grow as professionals and engineers. We use our funding from corporations to help sponsor active members in our organization to go to the annual SHPE National Conference. With the locations varying, the cost for each member to go (including travel and registration) can be quite high. We know this is a huge financial commitment for students who are trying to get experience in a professional environment. A point system provides the opportunity to fund those members who actively participate. Student's total financial obligation is substantially reduced the more they participate. Corporate sponsoring allowed us to save nearly $5000 in funding members to fly out to Indianapolis, Indiana this past year.
